Community Information: Sarnia-Lambton has been created by amalgamating the surrounding six municipalities. The new Municipality has a population in excess of 105,000. Sarnia-Lambton is located in the mid-western part of Ontario and is a major border-crossing to Port Huron, Michigan. Sarnia is a charming town with over 40,000 residents and is located about an hour west of London. In Sarnia are two of the Bluewater Health hospital campuses. Along the Ontario's western coast is the Lake Huron shoreline from Sarnia North through Grand Bend, to the Bruce peninsula. This area is one of the fastest growing tourist areas, set amidst southern Ontario's largest forest and inland communities. Throughout this region are many championship golf courses and the home to the 2003 Masters champion, Mike Weir. The Sarnia-Lambton region, a happy combination of past and present – old-fashioned and picturesque, yet affording the best in modern facilities. Sarnia-Lambton – a comfortable place to live all year round.
